CRADLE SONG.

FROM THE URBHAN. Evening is being and cool in the West, Lulling the golden-bright meadows to rest, Twinkle like slives the stars in the akken, Greeting the two little slumbering eyes.

Swently sleep! Sweetly close!
Thy watch the good angels in Faradise keep.

Now all the flowers are gone to repose.
All the sweet incense-cups peacefully close.
Blossoms socked lightly on evolting smild breeze
Drowelly, dreimity, swing the trees.
Sweetly sleep!
Thy watch the good angula in Paradisa Reep.

Wise little elves, by the light of the moon, Sing to my derling a bullady soon, Rise from your cells in the cups of the flowers. Weave him a golden dream all the night hours! Sweetly sleep! Sweetly sleep! Thy watch the good angels in Paradise keep.

Weave him a ros; and weave him a said Heavenly Spring time, the beautiful child; leading in aimber that soft little hand, Far into dream-land, the magical land, Executy sleep! Sweetly sleep! Thy watch the good angels in Paradise keep.

Sleep till the flowers are opening once more, Sleep till the lark in the morning shall sour, Sleep till the golden bells' heavenly chime Fentally welcomes the morning's prime! Sweetly sleep! Sweetly sleep! Thy watch the good angels in Paradise keep.

LAY PREACHING GENSURED.—Two lay gentle-men named McDonald Grant and Reginald Radeliffe, are actively engaged in the religious revival movement now going forward in England. Recently they visited Abordeen, in Scotland, and were permitted to preach in two churches of the Scotlish Establishment—Mr. Dewar's and Mr. Smith's. This gave offense to the "law and order" ministers of the town; and at the following meeting of the Presby-tery, a resolution condemning the unconstitu-tional and irregular practice, was introduced, and a promise required of the offending min-isters, by Dr. Paul, not to suffer their pulpits to be occupied by laymen any more.

Mr. Dewar—So far as I am concerned, I promise that these irregularities shall cease.

Mr. Smith—I will make no such promise.
Dr. Forsyth—I am really sorry to hear Mr.
Smith speak thus.
Mr. Smith—I am quite ready to defend myself, and I believe it would be an offending against God to give up this.

Dr. Paul then announced that the matter would be brought up at the next meeting of the Presbytery.

THE COLORED POPULATION OF BRITISH CO-LUBBIA. -J. J. Moore, the colored preacher, has a lengthy communication in the Colonist, in which he explains what the colored people intend to do in that country. He says:

"We have come to possess the soil; to till the earth; to reap its productions; extract its minerals; to mould its rocks and forests into firesides, and to fill the solitary places with joy and gladness: to gild the western verge of old ocean with white winged messengers to glide upon the bosom of every sea; and build up for ourselves and children happy homes in the land of the free and the home of the brave."

The expressman who carried off the body of the late Hugh C. Baker, (of Canada West,) in New York, (see yesterday's Press,) was brought before the Mayor the following day. It was shown that the expressman had been ordered to remove the body, which had been stored on board among a great number of other things, as he had done, to the office of the American Express Company, for further shipment. The matter was thus satisfactorily explained, and the expressman dismissed.

REPORTED FOR THE DAILY PRESS.

From Washington. Washington, March 15 .- It is credibly ascertained that both England and France dis-claim any other intention in sending naval forces to the coast of Mexico, than to procure due reparation for the wrongs committed to British and French subjects.

The further statement is made that it is not for their purpose to take side with or to favor either of the contending Mexican Governments.
